Sonja started DJ-ing in 2007, having previously mastered musical instruments such as the piano and guitar. She picked up her mixing skills at Enemy DJ Production in Surabaya, but since then, has trusted her passion and instincts more to shape the progress of her music.

Sonja believes that music comes from the heart, and that good music is the kind that stirs a million feelings in one's heart. Music is about connection, between the artist and her instrument, between the artist and her crowd. The honest, colourful, and vivacious sounds of Sonja's music has rapidly gained a loyal following among the crowd in her hometown of Malang as well as around Indonesia. A realist romantic, Sonja mixes idealist tunes in a delicious blend, spiced up with her fashionable and energetic performance.

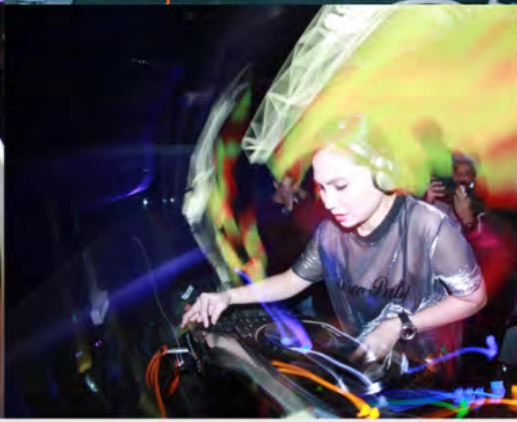

Sonja does not like limiting her style to certain genres, but admits to a fascination for house, tech house, and techno. "Putting labels on music makes life convenient, but sometimes people pay too much attention to the labels, and not the music itself," Sonja once said, "If it moves the heart, then it's good music." As Sonja gains more air time and gig opportunities, the future looks promising for this young female artists, a future DJ superstar. Look out world, Sonja is out to light you up..!

Sonja released her first debut single "Honey" Exclusively in Beatport for 2 weeks and made it in top charts of Hardrock FM Radio.

Sonja reach the next level by collaborating with Spanish DJ & Producer Del Horno and released their singles "Make Out" and "Get Your Hands"
